DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: first solvent comprises hot n-methyl-2-pyrrolidone (claims 10 and 19) or first solvent comprises dimethylpropyl urea (claims 11 and 20)

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-9, 12-18, and 21 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35

U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

2. Additionally, claims 5 and 15 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising an epoxy, an acrylate, a polyimide, or a silsesquioxane.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

3. Lastly, as a matter of form, the following suggestions are provided. First, independent claim 1 includes the language "to remove solvent" in line 10 and further includes the language "of a first solvent" in line 17. It is unclear if "the first solvent" is the intended to be the same as or different from the solvent initially disclosed in line 10 or if said first solvent does not have a relationship with the solvent of the liquid solution. Additionally, it is suggested that claims 6 and 16 be amended to clearly describe the range as being between 124,000 daltons and 180,000 daltons.
